

QASSP LEARNING

CREATIVE LEADERSHIP FOR PRINCIPALS

LEARN LIKE A LEADER. LEAD LIKE A LEARNER.

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

This seven-month program is designed for experienced school principals and heads of school.

You must have a desire to lead with authenticity and the daring to reimagine schooling. You will be led via the Designed InGenuity framework which is proven to increase motivation, group accountability, and the collective efficacy of a team. You will work closely with a 'pod' of up to seven colleagues.

OUTCOMES

- ✓ Cultivate the creative genius of those around you to spark transformational change.
- ✓ Reimagine schooling for 21st century learning.
- ✓ Widened perspectives on difficult issues and decisions.
- ✓ Support to prevent burnout.

PROGRAM

Mon 13 - Thur 16
March 2023

Awakening Wonder

The program will commence with what is essentially a learning sprint. There are two key outcomes: build relational trust to enable genuine collaboration and a shared experience to commence the project, and awaken participants' creative genius.

Online
9:30 AM - 10:30 AM

Thur 16
(Evening)

A two-day face-to-face residential will launch the program. An informal dinner will be held on Thursday evening to ensure a timely start on Friday. This evening session will include a reflection upon the learning sprint, a presentation about the theory behind the experience, and the elements of high-performing teams.

Fri 17 & Sat 18
March 2023

The remainder of the two-day program will include further examination of the importance of relational trust, innovation, and creativity. References will be made to design thinking, the Agile Manifesto and agile practices, examples of iterative cycles of improvement, insights into motivation when undertaking complex work, and the importance of deep listening.

March -
October

Implementing Innovation

Participants will have an online check-in with a member of the facilitation team each week. The 'pod' will also meet face-to-face visiting schools and organisations at the cutting edge of learning.

Thur 26
(Evening)

Unpacking Impact

The final two-day face-to-face residential will include presentations as participants share their learning about themselves, their school teams, and innovation. This event might include invited guests.

THOMPSON MORRISON | GUIDE

is the Director of Innovate Oregon and co-author of "The Dayton Experiment" which tells the story of how a small rural school in Oregon was transformed by developing a culture that mirrored the innovation mindset of the companies that are driving our new creative economy. A business consultant by background, Thompson now works with schools around the world to introduce a new agile-based learning framework, Designed inGenuity, to help them better prepare students to be future-focused makers and creators.

NICOLA LESLIE | GUIDE

is an experienced and passionate educator who is currently completing a master's degree in Educational Leadership. Her desire to provide a high-quality education to our future generations is deeply seeded in wellbeing, collective efficacy and building leadership effectiveness.

DR DAVID TURNER | GUIDE

has enjoyed a diverse career in educational leadership in a variety of school contexts. His passion for professional learning has seen him work nationally, internationally and in leadership roles in the tertiary sector, including as Head, School of Learning and Innovation. He is interested in the leadership mindsets necessary for a rapidly changing world and unleashing the creative potential in all leaders, especially school leaders.

YOUR COLLEAGUES!

The most effective leadership programs are those that allow leaders to leverage "the expertise in the room". For this reason, this program will create ongoing opportunities for the cohort to learn from each other as each member leans into new learning and explorations.
